Afflee, Churchill Unite to Congratulate Princess; Communists Assails Beirorinai

LONDON, Oct. 22 (P)—Wille Gallacher, one of the two Communists in the British parliament, assailed the Duke of Windsor, abdicated over a love affair, Gallacher said "We have been told in certain sections of the press that it is a question of mutual attraction (between Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten)—what is generally termed a love affair—but that is quite irrelevant because the uncle of the young lady had a love affair and lost his job as a consequence.

Prime Minister Attlee and Conservative Leader Winston Churchill dropped political differences and joined in offering the motion, quickly adopted, expressing "our sincere cordial congratulations."

Local Life Underwriters Meet, Hear Reading Agent

Twenty-eight members of the Pottstown Life Underwriters association, at their monthly dinner meeting in Clover Leaf restaurant last night, heard John R. Wink, of Reading, urge them to fulfill their duty of making "a" least one service call upon their friends.

"Since life insurance is one of the greatest social benefactors," Wink declared, "agents owe it to each of their close friends to make at least one thorough life insurance service call."

The speaker is a charter life underwriter, and the agency supervisor for the John Hancock company's Reading branch.

Fred H. Kelley, club president, took charge of the business meeting.

U. S. General Pleased With Occupation Troops

FRANKFURT, Oct. 22 (P)—Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, acting U. S. commander in Europe, issued a statement today voicing his "pride" in the appearance, bearing, and "improved discipline and courtesy" of American occupation troops in Germany.

A year ago Army commanders here began a disciplinary campaign after numerous reports of misconduct by occupation soldiers.

But Gallacher, amid cries of "Sit down," said he did not want any part of the "lax" expenditure in connection with this affair.

Recalling that Edward VIII, now the Duke of Windsor, abdicated over a love affair, Gallacher said "We have been told in certain sections of the press that it is a question of mutual attraction (between Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten)—what is generally termed a love affair—but that is quite irrelevant because the uncle of the young lady had a love affair and lost his job as a consequence.

"Do not let us forget, when we hear what is going on here, that it was a Tory government backed by a huge Tory majority that ten years ago threw the king off the throne and sent him a wanderer on the face of the earth."

In a reference to Mountbatten's membership in the Greek royal family, he added, "I would like to say I cannot forget that on the day that this engagement was announced thousands of Greek citizens, Communists Socialists and trade unionists, were thrown into the prison camps of the reactionary royalist Greek government."

Gallacher added that although Philip had renounced his Greek title and citizenship "I am quite certain he has not forsaken the family fortunes."

McGovern interrupted and said "The more I look at the Red royal family in Moscow the more I feel that the British royal family have a place in the hearts of the people."

The Attlee motion referred to Princess Elizabeth's "unerring graciousness and understanding, the same human simplicity which has endeared the royal house to the country."

Churchill in seconding the motion said "Millions will welcome the joyous event as a flash of color on the hard road we have to travel."

Board of Trade President Harold Wilson told one of the secrets of the wedding preparations today. He said Elizabeth will get 100 extra clothing coupons for her "austerity" trousseau. The special allotment is a little over two years clothing ration for the average miss.

trousseau. The special allotment is a little over two years clothing ration for the average miss.

Strike Called Against New Haven Railroad

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 22 (P)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today called a strike against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for 6 a. m. Friday, Oct. 31.

J. J. Hammill, general chairman of the brotherhood for the New Haven system said strike instructions would go out immediately to the union's more than 5000 members, 94.8 percent of whom, he reported voted in favor of walkout.

Main contention in the dispute is the claim of the brotherhood, denied by the railroad, that the road has failed to comply with a 1944 ruling of the national railway adjustment board that men reporting for work more than 30 minutes before the departure time of their trains are entitled to an hourly pay.

A railroad spokesman already has stated that the road will seek the services of the national mediation board as soon as the strike call is issued.

Italian Papers Laud Brazil Break With Reds

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 22 (P)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said today Brazil's example in breaking relations with Soviet Russia "also could be followed by many other Latin-American republics."

In Rome the moderate newspaper Momento Sera said that if other Latin American countries follow Brazil and Chile in breaking relations with Russia "it might provide the decisive blow to the weak structure at Lake Success."

The newspaper said the action was "significant because it was made after the pact of Rio de Janeiro which pledged all the states of the American continent to uniformity of international conduct."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1947

Enjoy the blessings of the day if God sends them; and the evils bear patiently and sweetly; for this day only is ours; we are dead to yesterday, and not born to tomorrow.—Jerome Taylor.

An Opportunity to Help

AGAIN a drive for Community Chest funds has started. Leaders of the campaign are trying to impress upon the Pottstown area that giving to this great organization is not so much an obligation as an opportunity.

The Community Chest was organized to centralize fund raising activities of eleven charitable groups and to give efficient overall direction to the whole Pottstown social service movement.

Results have been splendid. Yet some citizens feel the work of the agencies is remote. Their contact with social service may seem to be only at that time of the year when donations are solicited. Investigation would prove otherwise, for in their work with boys and girls, the blind, broken families, and many others, the agencies in one way or another touch almost every one of us.

Even if the work does not directly impress an individual, however, he should be aware that the social health of the community is of great value to him and his family. The Community Chest builds and protects that health.

The $116,971 goal this year is $40,000 more than the 1946 goal. It is important that Pottstown reach the present objective, for just as any housewife, social agencies are experiencing higher food, clothing and rent costs. No needy family can be maintained on the same outlay as a year ago.

In the face of those things, the Community Chest has figured carefully. But the humanitarian services of the agencies are needed badly. Be generous when you are given the opportunity to help the good work along.

Saving Food and Feed

THE campaign to save food has reached the family dinner table, the restaurant menu and the liquor industry. But many who know something about food are wondering why the citizens food committee has ignored some of the other ways to conserve food.

We could do a lot by adopting more efficient feeding practices on farms and by eliminating waste in food handling.

Feeding livestock can be a highly scientific process. Unfortunately it isn't on most farms. A study made by the University of Minnesota has demonstrated, for example, that the more efficient farmers use 512 fewer pounds of feed to make 100 pounds of hog than do the less efficient ones.

The University of Illinois urges that soft corn — and there is some this year — be fed first, before it spoils. Or, if it must be saved, it will keep best if left uncrushed — standing in the field bound in small shocks.

Only 56 percent of the pigs farrowed in the nation ever reach the market. Some are consumed on the farm. But many others are victims of disease and neglect. Each dead pig represents the loss of 140 pounds of grain.

Farmers could conserve a lot of grain by close culling to avoid feeding unprofitable livestock and poultry. Probably half the chicken flocks in the country never are culled and include a number of "boarder" hens laying no eggs but growing fat on feed that might otherwise make food for hungry Europe.

Animals make the most efficient use of their feed at lower weights; they should not be overfed, therefore, but marketed at minimum weights. This will reduce the supply of meat graded "choice," but it will leave plenty of nutritive good and commercial grades.

According to one authority, four million tons of grain could be saved each year if farmers would stop playing host to rats and grain weevils.

An all-out attack on pests and diseases on farms, together with efficient feeding and marketing practices, would save 34 million tons of feed a year. Many a boxcar, en route from the wheat country to the grain market, leaves behind a tiny trail of wheat kernels. Just plugging the holes in boxcars would fill many a European stomach.

The food committee needs to recognize such unpleasant facts as these. If it were to put as much effort behind a program of efficient livestock feeding and the elimination of waste on farms and in food marketing as it is into other methods of food conservation, it would accomplish as much and probably more toward easing both the shortage of food and the shortage of feed.

Wal, I see by the papers where the US Senate got rid of a lot of its antique furniture by auction. Unfortunately, that old cadet, the filibuster, was not put on the block.

Be Charitable But Not Fools

To the Editor: The subject of saving food for Europe, high taxes and the general run of lies told the public by government officials regarding the above subjects points to the fact that politics has reached an all-time low.

The officials are devoid of all integrity and honor, and their acts show them to be as lacking in intelligence as they are in honor.

Review the facts. Save food? With the government buying the same items that they ask us to save and either store or destroy them! This is done to maintain high-price levels. Now there is talk of another OPA. All they have to do is quit hoarding and destroying, and food prices will come down with still enough for the dear Europeans.

Do not forget all of us say that we love our children, but we do not act it. For we let these same politicians mortgage the next several generations by giving food and equipment to other nations who are too lazy to help themselves as long as we are fools enough to support them and feed them.

You say they are not lazy? Then why do the miners in England only work a 22-hour week? Ask any GI who was in Europe. When the Europeans were asked to do some real work, they would refuse and tell us that they could go to UNRRA and make more and work less. This is the gang that not too long ago were shooting us. Allies and enemies alike are using us for suckers.

Europe is a portion of the world that has been with few exceptions well cleaned out of its natural resources. That is why they are so poor now. So we are doing our best to clean out our own resources so that we will be as poor as they. About all they ever did have was wars to try to steal each others wealth.

Now we are supplying more wealth so that they can have another war real quick and of course suck us into it so that we can again pay their bills as we did in the last two wars. We are then called "Uncle Shylock."

The Bible tells us to be charitable but not to be — fools.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ALFRED K. 15, is in the 8th grade. "As head of a large grade school, I have been an interested daily reader of your column in our newspaper." Jack's principal wrote me one day.

"Now I wish to ask your opinion of Alfred, who is somewhat older than the average 8th grader. He has been doing falling work at several of his subjects."

"Nevertheless, he keeps boasting to everybody that school work is extremely easy for him."

"Of late, he has been absent a great deal. Upon his return this week he came to my office and begged me very politely for me to really a courteous fellow, to ask his teachers to be very kind to him since his mother had recently died, and he had just returned from his funeral."

"Taking the boy at his word, we teachers have treated him with exceptional sympathy. But a short time ago I had a conference with his grandmother, with whom he lives."

"She wondered why people had been so sympathetic toward her lately, and was shocked to learn what Alfred had told us, since his mother is not dead, and hadn't even been ill."

"She also seemed surprised to learn that Alfred had been doing poorly in school, for she said he had always told her that school was very easy for him."

"Later, she informed me that he explained his failure by saying we teachers did not like him because he was a poor basketball player. This is not true, Dr. Crane, for Alfred doesn't even play basketball."

"All of his teachers have reported the fact that he is noted for telling untruths. Do you suppose his trouble is due to the fact he has had to repeat several grades in the course of his school life?"

"His mother has remarried and has a new family. Alfred has wished to live with his mother, but has resided with his grandparents, who are fine old people, but cater to him in every way."

"Dr. Crane, what would you advise in this case, for I fear less Alfred become a delinquent?"

You readers will observe the constructive attitude of Alfred's principal. Modern school officials, as well as the teachers themselves, should be devoted to building wholesome personalities in their pupils, instead of teaching only geometry or history or arithmetic.

What's wrong with Alfred? Wounded pride! First, because he didn't live with his parents as other boys in his neighborhood did. Then he dropped behind other youngsters of his age, so was called a "dummy."

To "cover up" he told untruths. That is the quick way to smooth over what is an embarrassing or difficult situation. The hard way is to tell the truth, or study hard, or one really succeeds.

Honesty is a habit, and so is lying. Which one will develop in a child, depends upon his environment even early in life. Unless we reward truthfulness and punish lying, we shall never cause children to be quite reliable.

It is quite natural for a youngster to lie, for his untruth is usually a quick attempt at a better adjustment to his troublesome situation. In the long run, however, it is a poor adjustment, so we must teach him to tell the truth.

So harness this natural desire of youngsters in the interest of morality. Link dishonesty with diapers and toddlers!

Water Rift Perils California Democrats

By RAY TUCKER

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22 — The conflicting viewpoints of Senator Sheridan Downey and Democratic State Chairman James Roosevelt on how federal water shall be sprinkled across the acres of California's Central Valley threaten another rift in a party already torn by the anti-Truman belligerence of the Wallace-Kenny faction. It adds another burden to the shoulders of the late F.D.R.'s first-born.

Roosevelt

New Deal's birth. The struggle here is a sort of sequel.

Son James, on behalf of small farmers—or so he contends—follows along his parent's path. Although he originally ran as an ultra-liberal in certain respects, Senator Downey has won strong support from conservative business interests for his stand. Here is the latest story of Democratic difficulties in this electorally important state:

WATER: Central Valley is a long strip of productive land extending up and down the heart of the state. In much of this area water is so scarce that "every drop has to be accounted for" by the users. It may be difficult for non-Westerners, who enjoy normal rainfall, to understand it, but in this region H2O is more precious than Haig and Haig. Without it, farms shrivel in the blazing sun and human beings go hungry or broke. Its lack cursed the early pioneers.

At a cost of approximately $370,000,000 depending on future prices of labor and materials, the federal government plans additional irrigation for the valley by harnessing the vagrant waters of Mt. Shasta Dam, similar storage reservoirs, the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers.

RESTRICTION: The Federal Reclamation Law provides that not a drop of the impounded and hoarded water shall be allotted to any farm consisting of more than 160 acres. Mr. Roosevelt stands resolutely by the statute's restrictions. He has the support of the A.F. of L. and the CIO, who can organize small farmers more easily. Behind him, too, are New Dealers, other so-called liberals and various groups of "ideologists."

The actual field marshal of this faction is spare, shrewd Max Stern, head of the Federal Reclamation Bureau here, former Washington newspaper correspondent and a protégé of Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York. Stern always has been a zealot for any cause he espoused, and quit the newspaper more than a decade ago to dedicate himself to F.D.R.'s "crusade." As a result, a controversy involving water rights has become a blazing, emotional, social, economic and ideological duel.

Senator Downey believes that the 160-acre restriction should be removed from the law. As such an advocate, he has been portrayed as the spokesman for the "big farmers" and against the "little fellows." Conversely he has picked up friends among classes who once opposed him bitterly.

CONTRAST: There appears to be so much to be said for both sides that the violence of the controversy strikes many Californians as slightly ridiculous, although Republicans welcome this Democratic schism. It is understood that Gov. Earl Warren, who was born in this section, would like to offer his good services, but his hands are tied because it is exclusively a federal problem. And, again, why break up a swell scrap in the enemy camp?

The Roosevelt-Stern attitude apparently stems from their fear of corporate agriculture, just as F.D.R. disliked industrial and financial "bigness" until World War II changed his mind, at least temporarily. They honestly believe that any change in the 160-acre restriction would give an advantage to absentee or corporation owners of huge tracts.

On the other hand, as Senator Downey points out, many old settlers bought land in the district long ago. As they prospered, they added to their holdings until now they may have 600 acres or more. Under the New Dealers' program, and as the statute now stands, they must reduce their farms to 160 acres by selling land which they have saved and sweated for—or be deprived of water. Senator Downey does not think that they should be penalized for their thrift.

In fact, the 160-acre provision might benefit many absentee owners holding large undeveloped tracts. It is probable that they would not apply for any allocation of water. But if owners of smaller farms on the edges of their land are forced to sell the water-soaked acreage, the so-called parasites, then according to this theory, the "fat boys" would subdivide their tracts into 160-acre units and sell at a huge profit.

EFFICIENT: There is another important economic issue, too, especially in the light of the current controversy on how to increase production of food to feed Europe and lower prices. The Downey people contend that larger units may result in greater and more efficient development, as has been true in so many industries. This suggestion, naturally, makes "Jimmy" and Max see all colors of the politico-economic spectrum.

Outsiders see no reason why the dispute cannot be settled easily and painlessly, and it probably could be, save for the bitterness which has been engendered over these collateral issues. The simple question of equity has been lost sight of on both sides, and especially by the surviving guardians of the New Deal.

But the struggle, as so often happens when Democrats fall out, has passed the stage of logic or compromise, as of the moment. It may have to be settled by President Truman himself, that is, if he wants to carry California in 1948. On the other hand, a White House decision on the question of "big versus little farmers" might damage the Democrats more seriously than the present row.

Card-Counting Mystic

TO THE experienced klibitzer, some of the plays of veterans are unfathomable. That is often because they do not understand card-counting and are unable to follow the mental processes of the more experienced performers which show them that a particular play is marked as possible. Until its operation on a hand is explained to them, it is classed as mystic, in the realm of the supernatural.

Here we have four of the toughest rubber bridge players in St. Petersburg, Fla., in a dog-eat-dog combat. M. G. Murray, head of the local bridge league, was in the South, opposite Police Inspector Ike Mitchell, with Jones Hedrick, former state champion, in the West, opposite Commander Sutherland, USN.

Seeing two losers in spades and surely one in diamonds after the heart 10 was led, Mr. Murray had to avoid one in clubs. He took the first trick with the heart A, led to the spade 9, which the Q won, watched the diamond A win and took the diamond J with his K. The spade 6 was won by the K, and West did not like to return either spades or diamonds, which were now missing from the dummy, for fear that would cause a ruff in one hand and a club discard in the other. So he returned the club 10.

Mr. Murray took that with the K in dummy because he had decided to squeeze East. The latter had shown surely five cards in spades by his bid and West three, just one heart, almost surely only two diamonds because otherwise a smaller one than the J probably would have been returned. That would leave East five clubs and West only two. East also was marked for the spade A, because with that card in addition to the K West would have led the K at the start.

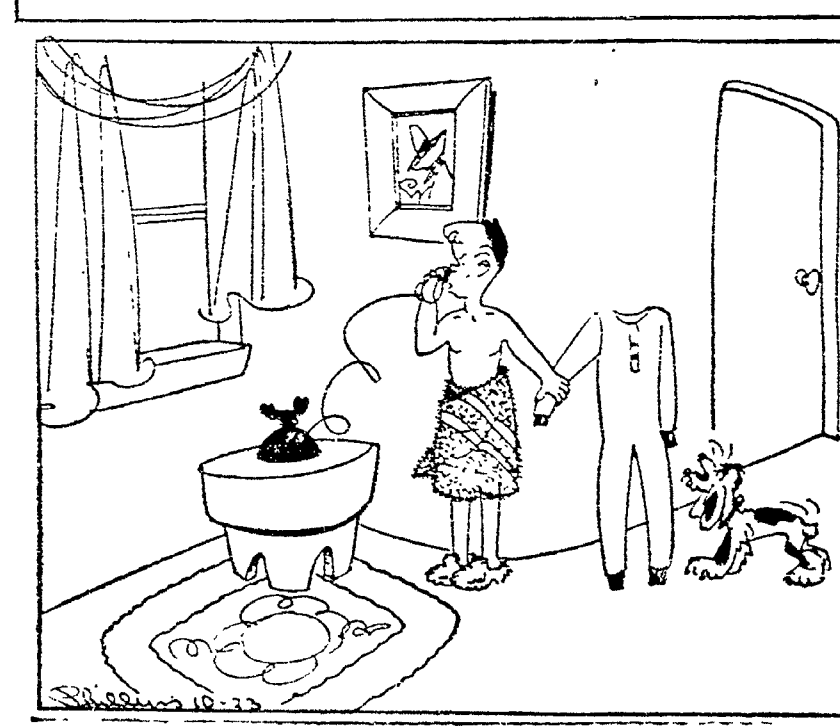

So then Mr. Murray ran the rest of the hearts. As the last one, the 4, was led, the dummy also held two little clubs and the closed hand the spade J and club A-3. The Commander in the East of course would not discard his spade A, so tossed the club J from the Q-J. Thereupon the club A and 3 took the last two tricks to make the contract.

EGG OR BROKEN? — There was a heated discussion over a coal bill at the monthly meeting of the board of education last night. The directors couldn't understand why some of the coal received was billed as egg coal and the other as broken coal.

TARGET MATCH—W. I. Grubb, Livingston Saylor, C. H. Wickerson and L. H. Davis, of the Shuler Shooting club, will shoot a target match with four members of The Hill School Gun club Monday.

NARROW ESCAPE — Harvey C. Beekley, son of W. Frank Beekley, Pottstown Landing, narrowly escaped death when a wagon loaded with more than two tons of cinders passed over his body as he fell from a wagon. The father, who was driving the wagon, expected to find the boy dead, but no bones were broken and severe bruises were the only injuries sustained.

ELLA BAUER DIES — Complaining of a headache upon her return from an automobile trip to Douglassville, Mrs. Ella N. Bauer, wife of Charles Bauer, 35 King street, was ordered to bed by her doctor. In less than two hours, the woman was found dead. It is believed that a stroke caused her death.

MUST LEAVE — Announcement was made that the YWCA is compelled to part with the services of Miss Catharine Grady as industrial secretary as a result of the failure to realize the goal in the recent budget campaign. Members regret that the action was necessary.

CHOOSING A HUSBAND — The Rev. Wilmer E. Harkness, pastor of the Seales Memorial Methodist church, last night gave a few pointers on how to choose a husband. A few suggestions were: Do not marry an immoral man unless you want misery and suffering, hospitals and operations; also, better marry an inanimate scarecrow than a moral leper.

FATAL PIMPLE — Infection, which followed an innocent looking skin eruption on the bridge of her nose, yesterday morning caused the death of Betty Jane Conrad, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Conrad, 32 East Fourth street.

FATHER INSTALLS SON — Tomorrow will mark another important day in the history of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, when the Rev. Asa A. Wholsen will be installed pastor at 10:15 a. m. The service of installation will be assisted by the Rev. F. N. Wholsen, father of the new pastor.

STEP SISTERS — Confident that Lady Luck will at last give one of them a deserving break, West Chester and Pottstown High school come to grips at Franklin field this afternoon, starting at 2:15 o'clock, in a fray where the loser is destined to sit on the Suburban conference cellar steps.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Turn Back the Universe... Lipstick His Bane...

TURN BACKWARD—Maybe this column ought to be on the social page, because it's mostly all about women or women's interests. It wasn't arranged that way. It just happened. But events around this column's house indicated that the clock has been turned backward. We're in the 1920's. The old, ornate hat-pin is back, probably because the new hats demand some sort of fastener. But the old-fashioned, big-headed pin is back, also. Let Grandpa have one of his discarded stickpins around the house, and it'll be snapped up, too. — It's a ribbon tie the dames are wearing, but one end is pinned down with from three to six stickpins of exactly the type we used to wear in our ties. Costume jewelry departments have been featuring the pins around a buck but the elegant wearer is the one who has found an old stickpin.

CRITIC — Comes a letter that may not sit well with some of the female readers. But A. L. P. writes: "Don't ever study a woman's eyebrows! I'm an old eyebrow watcher from 'way back and had the worst experience the other day. This woman was seated directly opposite me in a cafeteria. Her eyebrows were midway between her eyes and her hairline. Close inspection revealed that she had applied them there. They hadn't grown there naturally. Well, after I had spent 15 minutes on the receiving end of that look of constant amazement that the elevated brows gave her, I could stand it no longer and had to leave."

ADVICE — Dentist who is outspoken enough to yelp about the war paint the staff side wears asks them not to smear their lips before keeping an appointment. Lipstick, he continues, leaves a terrible mess in any dentist's office. It dirties up the towels, the water glass, the instruments and the dentist's fingers. It would be so easy for a woman to remove the lipstick with some cleansing tissue before she gets into the chair, or she might leave it off altogether until after she is through with her appointment. This same dentist says he's had patients—women, of course, who go to all the trouble slapping on a new coat of lipstick just before stepping into the dentist's chair. The average dentist much prefers his women in the natural around the mouth when he's going to work in that region.

TALL YARN — Teacher forwards what she said was an essay written by one of her girl students in English composition. (Keep your tongue in your cheek and no offense intended!) She says the masterpiece went like this: "Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and have many pockets, but they won't go to church. Perhaps if they were bunnies they would. They are more logical than women but they also are always more zoological. Both men and women have sprung from monkeys, but the women certainly sprang further than the men."

COSTLY — Finally an item culled from the mail in a publicity piece from an airline. Seems an elderly woman dropped into its office to buy a ticket. She was advised, as she was given the ticket, that she could obtain a $5000 trip policy for 25 cents. "What!" she exclaimed, "do you mean it will cost me only a quarter to take out a $5000 insurance policy?" She was advised by the ticket agent that was most decidedly the case. "You know," she went on as she fumbled for the two-bits in her purse, "it'll be just my luck not to have anything happen."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IT IS unfortunate that cancer is such a silent disease. Many other less deadly disorders betray themselves almost at once in the symptoms of illness and discomfort they cause, but not cancer. It moves stealthily, particularly in certain areas of the body, that its hold on its victims is often unbreakable long before they are aware of its presence.

That is why doctors say that regular and thorough health audits are the best insurance against cancer. Frequent, careful check-ups give us almost our only opportunity for early discovery of cancer in its curable stages.

Cancer of the prostate in men is one of the most serious forms of this most treacherous of all diseases. Quite often it gives no warning signs at all until after it has progressed to such a degree that removal by operation is no longer possible.

In some cases, the cancer may have grown to such an extent that there is blocking of the outlet of the bladder. In such cases, operation through an instrument known as a cystoscope, which can be passed into the bladder for removal of the prostate tissue is performed.

Pain in prostate cancer may also be relieved by operation for removal of the sex glands. Vitamins and preparations for increasing the amount of coloring of the blood, and injections of blood into a vein are given when they are indicated.

Treatment with the sulfonamide products and penicillin helps to overcome infection, and such treatment also is of aid in reducing pain.

When pain recurs after removal of the sex glands, the estrogens are given in the smallest effective doses, and the amount is increased as needed.

Additional relief from pain is obtained in three out of five patients by X-ray treatments of the pituitary gland which is located at the base of the brain.

In cancer, what is known as metastasis or spreading may occur. This means that cells are carried by the blood to other parts of the body where they locate and grow. X-ray treatment of these areas where metastasis has occurred also may be helpful.

Every man of middle age or beyond should be alert to the dangers of this form of cancer. Since the symptoms which call attention to it come so late, he should not hesitate to have periodic examinations made for the special purpose of discovering whether or not changes which indicate the presence of a tumor growth are occurring in the prostate gland. If such examinations were the rule rather than the exception many lives could be saved every year.

Byrnes Urges Three-Power Agreement in German Treaty if Reds Disagree

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 22 (P)—Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes proposed tonight that the United States, Britain and France act "now" to call a full-scale German peace conference regardless of the attitude of Russia.

Byrnes, in effect predicted failure of the six-power foreign ministers conference in London next month. He argued that Russia had proved its unwillingness to co-operate in a generally-acceptable German peace settlement and asserted the three Western nations would have to call a German conference of victor nations "near from now anyway."

"If they are going to do it a year hence," he said, "Why not do it now?"

The former secretary of state made his views on the next peace-making moves in an address delivered at a meeting of South Carolina fraternal groups here under Masonic sponsorship. His words followed in general, but in more detail, the pattern proposed in his book "Speaking Frankly."

In this he suggested the United States and other powers make peace without Russia, if Russia will not co-operate. He added that if Russia persisted then in holding Eastern Germany, the other allies if necessary should use measures of "last resort" under majority sponsorship of the United Nations Security Council.

"There is no suggestion," he said here, "as to whether such collective action should be persuasion, economic pressure or military action. That would be for the nations to determine under the circumstances existing at that time."

Byrnes specifically denied what he described in his speech as a United Press report of his book. He said it presented him as an advocate of meeting Russian obstructionism with atomic bombs and ouster of the Red army from Germany by force if necessary.

He read several hundred words from his book on his suggestion for the German settlement, and said: "In it there is nothing about atomic bombs or driving the Soviets out of Germany by force."

At another point in his speech, he said the "title of warmonger" had been given him by Dmitri

Manulsky, Soviet Ukrainian delegate at the United Nations, "and that is one title I do not like."

"If hostile discussions of talk of war against Russia and I have lost no opportunity to discourage talk of the inevitability of conflict," Byrnes declared.

The Soviet, Byrnes said, mainly wants two things out of Germany: First, $10,000,000,000 in reparations out of current production; second, a share, along with Britain, America and France, in control of the Ruhr industries of Germany. Byrnes argued the United States could not afford to agree with either Soviet demand.

Byrnes declared Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov would not agree to real progress on a German peace settlement at any point unless the American, British and French foreign ministers "agree to what Mr. Molotov wants."

He said, however, that Molotov had been at the London meeting for a month to let actual work be started on drafting a treaty—preliminary work which, he said, the Russian has "delayed for more than a year."

"Those who are uninformed will regard it as progress," Byrnes said. "Mr. Molotov will not. He knows he can delay the preliminary draft for at least six months."

He added that even after that

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (P)—A 34-year-old laborer, father of three children, was awarded $15,000 damages against the Pennsylvania railroad in U. S. District court today for being afflicted with lead poisoning while working in the company's paint shops at Altoona.

Aloysius L. Richards, Altoona, told the jury that the poison entered his body from paint spray guns in the two years prior to December, 1945, while he worked at scraping loose paints from tenders and locomotives in the paint shops.

Richards, who sued for $100,000, testified he was without work for four months while hospitalized and that afterwards the company transferred him to another shop where he did not come in contact with paint.

You can give them NEW HORIZONS

- Kids always magnify things.

Put them in a canoe, and they're De Soto exploring the Mississippi or Washington crossing the Delaware.

Take them for a walk in the woods, and they're Tarzan stalking game in the jungle.

Even a child with a set of blocks can make a dream building more imposing than the tallest skyscraper.

No, it doesn't take much to make a kid happy. But isn't it tragic that some youngsters must be deprived of even the simple joys of childhood?

That's why we should be eternally grateful that we have a Community Chest in our town. Its Red Feather services bring youngsters new adventures through summer camps and week-end hikes. They open new worlds for those who want to learn hobbies and handicraft. They bring the thrill of sports by providing places to swim or play games.

Surely, you wouldn't take that away from the kids in our town. So make your contribution a generous one. You'll never regret it!

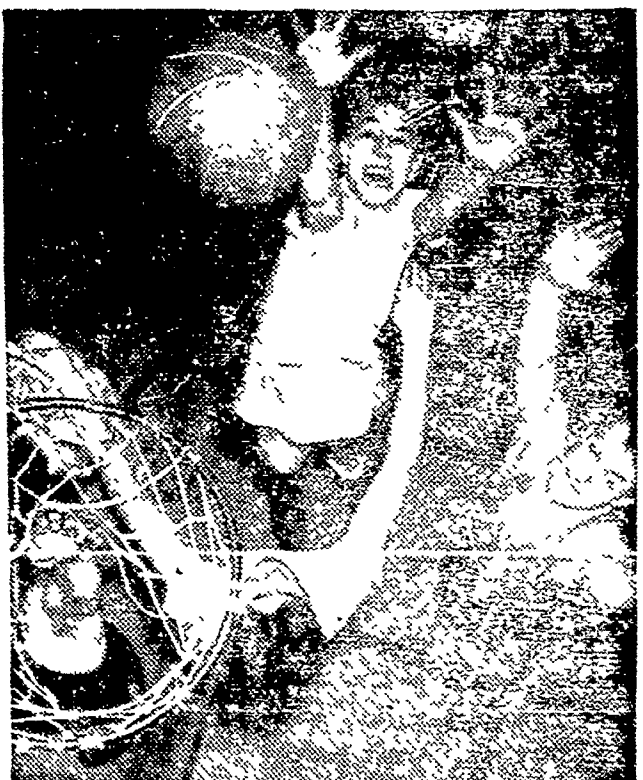

NEW WORLDS OPEN UP for youngsters in scouting. For most boys and girls, it offers them their first chance to "be on their own." It teaches them leadership and brings them such memorable experiences as sleeping under the stars, blazing a trail through the woods, or eating hotdogs broiled over a campfire.

A CHANCE FOR SELF EXPRESSION is offered all children in the Red Feather clubs and organizations in our community. Here they learn to paint or sculpture... build model planes... or make their first pair of moccasins.

NO YOUNGSTER IS OUT OF THE SWIM—thanks to our Red Feather services. All can enjoy our indoor pools in the winter or indulge in water sports in lakes, streams and pools at camps in the summer. And do kids love it—oh boy!

THE COMMUNITY WINS when it provides recreation facilities that give youngsters healthful outlets for their pep and energy. So let's buy our kids a great big chunk of happiness. Let's give them a childhood to remember!

Battery A Not Guard Unit, Dui Reserve Corps Group

General Arnold Tells Ursinus Group To Direct Plans for Science Training

General Henry H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Force, yesterday told the Ursinus Day convocation at Ursinus college, Collegeville, to postpone plans for "Urobia" and concentrate on training in the new sciences.

Following his address he was presented with an honorary doctor of laws degree by Dr. Norman E. McClure, college president, and a reception was held for the general.

The Air Force head concluded by saying we must keep our forces alert and have at our fingertips the most destructive means of war if we wish to assure our youth a normal future.

The ceremonies, held in connection with the 77th anniversary of the founding of the college, saw Capt. Roger L. Porter Jr. award a bronze plaque to the school in recognition of its participation in the Navy training program.

Dr. McClure also presented nine bachelor of science and four bachelor of arts degrees to Ursinus students graduating in the Summer term.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shomo Feted At Surprise Party on 55th Anniversary

By MARY CAPP
(Mercury Society Editor)

"We have had our little ups and downs, but we get along as well now as when we were younger," said Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shomo, of 107 Walnut street, Stowe.

The couple celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary last night at the Blossom restaurant. The party was a surprise to the couple, who thought they were going to visit a daughter living at Rinsing Hill.

Amidst a lovely bouquet of Fall flowers, a large cake decorated in pink and white with "Charlie and Tillie" was used as the centerpiece. There were 34 members of the family present. The couple received a purse presented by the children and the grandchildren.

Married on Oct. 22, 1892, in the Emmanuel Lutheran church by the late Rev. D. K. Kepner, pastor, the couple went home to Stowe.

They went to the same school in Buchananville, now known as Stowe, which was located where the Brethren in Christ mission now stands.

"She didn't talk to anyone, didn't even go out to recess," declared Mr. Shomo who said he knew of his wife at school.

However, later on at a dance the couple were introduced by a mutual friend. They still like to dance and have as much pep.

Mrs. Shomo is 70 years of age and Mr. Shomo is 74 years old. She still does her own housework and is employed at present in the kitchen of the Blossom restaurant.

"I hope to live to be 90 years old like my father did," said Mrs. Shomo, who described her father as being little and as hard a worker as she is.

Mr. Shomo was employed by the Pottstown Iron Company Steel Mill, at Stowe, and after it shut down he worked for 20 years at the Stanley G. Flag company as a yard foreman and then as an annealing foreman.

At present he is retired and does odd jobs here and there. His favorite hobby is fishing, although he doesn't eat fish. Once or twice a week, Mr. Shomo and a buddy go to Delaware where the fishing is good and once in awhile they can be seen along the Perkiomenville creek.

The couple remembers the day when there were two trains, one to Pottstown from Stowe and back again. If you missed the train, you walked, because there were no automobiles.

They have five children all of whom are now living and in good health. The children are Mrs. Margaret Seyler, Mrs. Carlotta Bush, Mr. Bush was graduated from the North Coventry High school, in the class of 1944, and is employed in a local paint store.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Cantaloupes are most delicious when called. If the cantaloupe is chilled in the refrigerator it should be wrapped in heavy waxed paper as it helps to keep the odor within the fruit. The proper way to cut it is to place the cantaloupe on top of a coal of chopped ice for about 15 minutes. Never serve chopped ice in the cut surface of the melon since it causes the pulp to become mushy and watery.

Tight Control of Manpower Seen If United States Is Called to War

Show's Off

A fashion show, arranged by San Francisco manufacturers, has been banned in Germany because the U. S. Army considered it to be a "commercial enterprise." Among those who were to participate was Hollywood star Joan Leslie (above).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (P)—Civilians were warned today that any future war would bring far more stringent Government controls on manpower and industry to create a speedy and total mobilization.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal voiced this warning in explaining that an industrial mobilization plan was shelved after Pearl Harbor because it did not properly evaluate the extent to which "the entire economy must contribute to modern war." This he attributed to "national indifference on the subject of military preparedness."

Appearing before the Senate war investigating committee, Forrestal stressed the pressing necessity for charting a future defense program in accordance with lessons learned during the recent war.

Two other witnesses agreed with Forrestal about the need for much stronger controls over manpower and the entire civilian economy in any future war.

But both testified that time, money and lives might have been saved in the last war if industrial mobilization plans based on World War I had been utilized far more promptly.

Thomas J. Hargrave, chairman of the munitions board under the new Defense act, and an Eastman Kodak executive, said strong controls in the future war must fall upon "production, manpower, and economic stabilization."

Hargrave said his agency now is developing a master plan for mobilization of industry, stockpiling of $2,500,000,000 of strategic materials, and keeping about 120 specialized munitions plants available on a stand-by basis.

Ferdinand Eberstadt, former vice chairman of the War Production board, said the country would have "gained considerably" if the pre-war industrial mobilization plan had been put into operation "at an earlier time than we did."

Implying that there might have been bad public reaction, however, the witness said that he never heard the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt criticized "as an incompetent judge of public opinion."

In the future, Eberstadt said that in mobilization of manpower "we must make a completely new start based on the essentiality of service and occupation."

Best Dressed Man Title to President

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (P)—The Fashion Foundation of America today came up with its list of the 10 best dressed men in 1947 and a recommendation that men carry pocketbooks like women rather than cream odds and ends into their pockets.

At the top of the list was President Truman who was chosen, the foundation said, as the best dressed statesman "by his choice of hats."

Ted Collins, owner of the Boston Yanks professional football team, was given the nod over Joe DiMaggio and Dan Topping. Other selections included:

Grover Whalen, socialite Byron C. Foy, Harry Conover, Cary Grant, Guy Lombardo, shipping executive William Harlow, Basil Rathbone and Family court Judge P. James Pellicchia of Newark.

The foundation, which said the choices were based on a survey by Ben Russell, custom tailor, made one other point: men's trousers should not be lengthened or shortened—"no matter what the women do."

Loses Mate

Comedian Milton Berle (above) was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Joyce Mathews Berle, former actress, on grounds of mental cruelty yesterday in Reno, Nev. "Berle liked night life and Mrs. Berle didn't," the latter's attorney told the district judge.

Taft-Reuther Ticket Fades; Firm Says Clients Drop Idea

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (P)—A Chicago publicity firm, hired to publicize a national unity ticket proposing Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) for President and Walter P. Reuther, CIO union leader, for vice-president, said today its clients had abandoned the project.

The publicity firm, P. H. Morris and associates, announced Oct. 15 that "a group of responsible, civic-spirited citizens" had proposed the ticket but said their names would not be made known until this week.

Reuther repudiated and Taft declined to comment on the project.

Morris said today "the sponsoring committee have decided to abandon this project" and had made the following statement:

"In proposing a ticket of Sen. Taft and Mr. Reuther, we intended to symbolize the manner in which national unity can be achieved on the American political front."

ALL REDS ASKED TO OPPOSE U. S. IN IMPERIALISM

Zhdanov Seeks Action On World-Wide Front; Assails Marshall Plan

MOSCOW, Oct. 22 (P)—Andrei Zhdanov in a declaration published today called upon Communists and their sympathizers everywhere in the world to join in a battle against what he charged were attempts by the United States to achieve "world domination by American imperialism."

Zhdanov, a member of the Soviet Communist party politburo, said Russia would take the lead in attempts to wreck the Marshall plan and prevent the United States from making Europe a "49th State."

He compared the "ruling circles" of the United States with "Hitlerites," and said America was following a policy of preparing for "new military adventures."

His remarks were contained in a two-page spread in the Communist newspaper Pravda disclosing for the first time his summation of the international situation before the nine-nation conference in Poland which led to creation of the international Communist information bureau in Belgrade.

He sounded the "no appeasement" note against American "imperialists" that appeared in the declaration issued by the nine-nation Communist meeting.

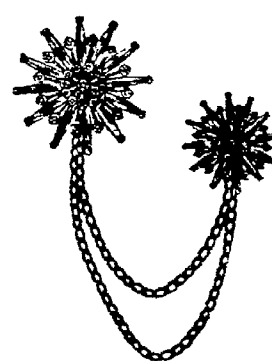

"As the Munich policy in the past united Hitler's hands for aggression, so concessions to the new course of the United States and the imperialist camp can only make its inspirers more impetuous and aggressive," Zhdanov declared.

At the same time he said Soviet foreign policy was based on the existence of the two systems of capitalism and socialism for a period of long duration.

"The possibility of collaboration between the Soviet Union and the countries of other systems proceed from this theory, and under conditions of maintaining reciprocity and fulfillment of obligations," he said.

Chile Arrests 200 Communists; Guards Nitrate, Copper Mines

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 22 (P)—The Chilean government placed portions of four nitrate and copper producing provinces under military control tonight to thwart what was described as a "Communist strike plan."

Meanwhile, police announced that 200 Communist leaders had been seized and that warrants had been issued for 300 more accused of instigating a "rebellion" among Chilean coal miners.

The classification of sections of Tarapaca, Antofagasta and Atacama in northern Chile and O'Higgins in central Chile as emergency zones came 24 hours after the South American nation severed diplomatic relations with Russia and Czechoslovakia.

The government's decree covering these zones enables authorities to take action under extraordinary powers voted by Congress in August. Military control also has been established in the coal fields where the government has been coping with what authorities describe as a "revolutionary" strike since Oct. 4.

The roundup of Communist leaders was being carried out in various parts of the country.

Valparaiso police reported 50 Communist leaders arrested there.

The newspaper Diario Ilustrado said four members of the party's central committee were among those arrested. It added that police were seeking all 45 members of the committee, which was charged officially with ordering the "rebellion" in the Schwager coal mine where dynamite was used yesterday in an effort to thwart troops sent into the pit to remove sit-down strikers.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morose, toasty, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. . . . Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

GAR Commander Celebrates at 103

RIPLEY, N. Y., Oct. 22 (P)—Robert M. Rownd, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, marked his 103d birthday today with a quiet, family dinner.

This community of about 1000 wanted to celebrate publicly the anniversary of the Civil War veteran who took part in 66 engagements and in General Sherman's march from Atlanta to the sea.

Rownd, who doesn't smoke, drink or eat meat and walks erectly without any assistance, reported good health.

On his 100th birthday he had said: "My health is good and I shall

Red Light Ahead For Film 'Amber'

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (P)—Francis Cardinal Spellman said today Catholics cannot see the movie "Forever Amber" with "a safe conscience."

The archbishop of New York, in a letter to all pastors in the archdiocese, to be read at all masses Sunday, said the Legion of Decency had placed the film in the "condemned" classification because it was "a glorification of immorality and licentiousness."

"Accordingly," wrote Cardinal Spellman, "I advise that Catholics may not see this production with a safe conscience."

Officials of the 20th Century Fox company, producers of the film, said they had no immediate comment.

probably live, by the grace of God, considerably longer than a century."

New England Fires Cause Three Million Damages

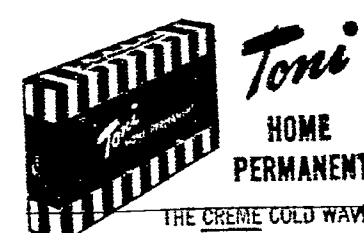

GOOSE ROCKS BEACH, Me., Oct. 22 (P)—New or rekindled forest fires today spread through woodlands of the Northeastern states, where already two lives have been lost and $3,000,000 in property loss suffered in rich New England vacation territory.

An end to a prolonged drought was not even predicted and danger mounted rather than abated.

Layfield Pike Work Described to Club; Mercury Is Praised

After a 10-year fight by the Pottstown Automobile club, permanent improvements on a six-mile stretch of the Layfield pike are underway. 33 members of the club board of directors, meeting in the Gilbertsville hotel, heard last night.

William F. Lamb Sr., club president, declared, "I am positive that without the help of The Mercury and of the county commissioners the construction of shoulders on the road would not have got underway this fall."

It is expected that the permanent black top shoulders, three feet wide on each side of the highway, will be completed in early December, barring the interruptions of inclement weather.

Gordon Hafer and Walter Bowers, both of Pine Forge, were named winners in the membership campaign conducted during the past month, each having signed up 11 new motorists.

A total of 63 new members joined the Pottstown club of the AAA, according to O. C. Beacraft, club manager.

Both Beacraft and Lamb will attend a national AAA convention in Washington, D. C., on Nov. 3 to 5. Beacraft, 1947 representative of the Pottstown club, also is a national director as well as a member of the national safety committee of the club, and will be in Washington two days before the convention officially opens.

It was announced that bids are being received for alterations to the club's new building, at 135 High street, and that the building committee will meet to open the bids shortly after Nov. 10.

Tomorrow more big - name stars will glitter at the hearing. The list includes Gary Cooper, Robert Montgomery, Ronald Reagan and George Murphy.

Thomas told reporters "a large additional amount of material" will be uncovered when the committee goes more deeply into espionage charges made yesterday. The committee was told then that a test pilot was tricked by a theatrical agent into supplying secret information about a supersonic bomber and the information was relayed to Communist headquarters.

To a question whether the committee has definite evidence of Communist espionage, Thomas crisply replied:

"My answer is yes."

Winslow J. Rushong, Montgomery county coroner, will hold an inquest "some time next week" into the death of George R. Wells, 58, of Pottstown RD 2, who was killed on West High street the past Sunday evening when he was struck by an automobile.

Wells died in the Pottstown hospital two hours and 20 minutes after he was hit, as the result of a fractured skull and contusion of the brain. The driver of the car was Joseph M. Sciscio, of Pottstown RD 3.

Marshall told the forum that no project "has ever received more careful study and preparation than has this problem of the reconstruction of Europe."

"And I am certain that no governmental effort has ever enjoyed such complete co-operation on the part of all the agencies concerned. There has been constant reference to a Marshall plan," he said. "The reference to me personally was unfortunate, but the reference to a plan was definitely misleading. There was no plan. There was a suggestion. Now we are in the process of drafting a plan as a proposal to the Congress of the United States."

"The period of study and preparation is thus drawing to a close. The time of action is at hand."

DRIFTIN' AROUND

WITH ELMER PANOC

RUSSELL B. WIGHT was busy packing his bags at The Hill school yesterday as he was preparing to leave the local prep school after producing one of the best wrestling teams the school has ever known.

The former Blue and Grey wrestling coach is expected to leave the school late this week to take over duties of his new job — headmaster of Lakeside school, an institution for orphans in Connecticut.

Wight was coach of The Hill wrestling team for a good number of years, but the team he produced the past season was one that will always be remembered. With such boys as Crosby Perry, Dave Michael, Science Cone and Johnny Barbour, Wight gave The Hill an undefeated team.

His coaching also led to National AAU wrestling champs. Wight tutored Barbour and Michael so well, the two lads went through the championship tournament at Lehigh university the past Winter and captured the National AAU titles of their respective weight classes.

Now that Wight is leaving, reports from the East High street school reveal that Jack Riley, head football coach, will take over as head wrestling coach.

Some of the boys that were on the 1946 squad will be back for another year of wrestling this Winter, but Riley will have to really work hard if he intends to produce the same type of teams turned out by Wight.

JOHNNY HOLOWKA, big pitcher and outfielder for the Pottstown Quoit club baseball team, was released from the Phoenixville hospital yesterday afternoon where he underwent an operation the past week.

Holowka, who always causes opposing pitchers a lot of trouble when he steps into the batting-box, was injured the past Summer during a City-Industrial league game on Franklin Field. He chipped the bone in his elbow while sliding into third base. Holowka finished the season with a bad arm and then decided to undergo an operation.

The past Wednesday Dr. Edward Jensen operated on Holowka's elbow and removed the loose chips. The Quoit club player should be ready to play baseball again in the Spring.

THE Perkiomen Valley Sportsmen's association will stage its 14th annual Big Booster meeting tomorrow night. In the past, the affair was always held in the Schwenkville High school auditorium, but the crowds have been too large the past few years and the club officials have looked for a new site. The association revealed recently that tomorrow night's meeting will be held in the Ursinus college gymnasium.

Seth Gordon, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Game commission, will address the group as well as Frank Barnett, a representative of the State Fish commission.

The Perkiomen Valley association announced that there will be other prominent sportsmen of the state present, who will be introduced and may stay a few nights.

One of the main events of the meeting will be the exhibits of taxidermy and wild life.

TWIN-BORO AA TOPS EDDYSTONE BY 9-6 SCORE

Extra Point and Safety Provide Margin of Victory Under Lights

Twin-Boro AA gridders came from behind to nose out Eddystone by a 9 to 6 score in a bitter struggle under the lights at Eddystone Tuesday night.

Retaliating with a touchdown in the second period, after the home-ers had scored in the first quarter, the local aggregation broke a 6 to 6 tie by converting the extra point and adding an automatic safety.

In the second period, Fry, Newett, James and Bob Tyson alternated in a drive from the Twin-Boro ten-yard line, advancing 90 yards for a touchdown. Newett carried the piskin over on an end sweep from the 13-yard line. Mungin booted the extra point.

The safety netted Twin-Boros two additional points when a bad pass from center went back of the Eddystone goal. First downs stood Eddystone 15 and Twin-Boros 11.

Local Hockey Teams To Watch Big Game

Twenty members of the Pottstown High girls hockey club and 12 members of the hockey club of Pottstown Junior High will travel this afternoon to the Merion Cricket club at Philadelphia to see two international teams in action.

The girls will watch the All-American girls hockey team battle the All-Britain team in a field hockey tilt which is scheduled to start at 3:15 o'clock.

The All-Britain team is touring the United States and will play in eight different states. No American team has yet beaten the team from the other side of the Atlantic.

TROPHY GIVEN TO DIECASTERS AT BIG BANQUET

175 Persons Attend Industrial Loop Banquet; Year's Profits Revealed

Approximately 175 persons attended the annual City-Industrial baseball league turkey banquet honoring all the players of the league last night at the Boyertown Orioles.

Gene Kauler, director of the league, acted as toastmaster and introduced a few members of the Pottstown Recreation commission who said a few words. Max Creswell addressed the group for a short time and Leroy Johnson also spoke.

A trophy was awarded by Kauler to Jim Ego, manager of Doehler's Diecasters who won the 1947 league championship. Each member of Doehler's team was then presented a gold baseball.

Don Fillman, president of the league, was then introduced and he thanked the players for their cooperation during the past year and thanked them for making the baseball season in Pottstown a success.

Francis Donnon, director of recreation in Pottstown then addressed the group. He talked of how the league brings out good sportsmanship and fellowship and then went on to talk about how the receipts of the league games help keep the playground movement in Pottstown. He revealed how much money was collected at the games and said the league made about $900 profit which will be used by the recreation commission to better recreation for the Pottstown children.

After the program, the group saw movies of football thrills of 1946 collegiate games and saw movies of seven Pottstown High school football games of 1946.

I Got It!

Passing Again Is Stressed By West Pottsgrove Coach

After ending a year-long jinx the past week by defeating Pennsburg by an 18-6 score, West Pottsgrove High's Falcons are preparing to battle East Greenville with the hope of taking their second straight victory.

The Falcons were reported to be practicing passing and more passing before the Pennsburg tilt, but when the game came up the past Saturday, the Falcons kept the pigskin on the ground and did very well.

The Greenies, however, appear to have a strong team this year after holding North Coventry to a 7-6 win the past week. Once again, Coach Bill Gohean is drilling his boys on passing. The Falcon mentor will keep the lineup the same as it was in the Pennsburg game the past Saturday. Gohean has two ends over six-foot tall and is trying to find a passer who can hit those two tall lads with aerials.

The former Phoenixville griddler is also trying to find a boy who is good at place kicking extra points.

The Falcons have scored seven touchdowns thus far this year but have yet to score a point after touchdown. Steve Sabo has been attempting to place kick the points, but most of his kicks are blocked.

Joe Clori, the new Falcon quarterback, handled the "T" formation nicely during the Pennsburg tilt and Gohean is continuing to use the former halfback in that position.

SMALL BOY BATS FOR BABE RUTH AT GILBERT'S FUNERAL

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 22 (AP)—They laid Brother Gilbert in his last resting place today—with ten-year-old Frank Haggerty "batting" for Babe Ruth at the solemn services.

It was Brother Gilbert, all sports fans remember, who—watching a gangling boy in overalls playing baseball, saw a big league future for George Herman Ruth—who as "Babe Ruth" became a living legend.

The great "Babe" was too ill to come here for the funeral, and young Frank Haggerty wrote "I'm sorry your friend died," and offered to sub for Ruth at the funeral.

"Go and God bless you," Ruth wrote back, and today young Frank knelt and prayed for Brother Gilbert among the notables of church, business and sports who were there.

Brother Gilbert died the past Sunday at 62. It was in 1914 while he was baseball coach at Mt. St. Joseph's college in Baltimore, Md., that he looked over the St. Mary's Industrial school team, and spotted Ruth.

He took Ruth to the Baltimore Orioles, and thus began the career of baseball's most famous player.

Brother Gilbert was a member of the Xaverian order, and was at Keith academy here when he died.

Reports Reveal Russia Will Enter Olympics

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Some of Britain's highest amateur athletic sources predicted today that Russian athletes would compete in the 1948 Olympic games here, ending a 36-year snub of the quadrennial sports classic.

"It looks like they are going to come in," said one of these sources, interpreting signs pointing in this direction but declining to be quoted by name.

Despite official silence from Moscow on Soviet Olympic plans, the Russians have been doing the spadework to compete since the end of the war.

They have joined at least five international sports federations—football, wrestling, weight lifting, basketball and swimming—and are dickering to join some ten more.

To receive an invitation to the Olympics, the Soviet Union must also organize a Russian Olympic committee and ask for recognition from the International Olympic committee.

The IOC is scheduled to meet at St. Moritz, Switzerland, Jan. 30 to Feb. 8, during the Winter Olympics and could approve the application then. That will be the deadline for the "Summer" games.

Duck Hunter Again Bags Limit of Four

Harry Keifreider went back to Skippack yesterday to hunt more ducks, and this time he took a friend along. Louis P. Young accompanied Keifreider to the site yesterday and enjoyed some of the same success his friend had the opening day of the season.

Young brought down a drake and a hen near the Skippack creek yesterday, but Keifreider topped his haul. The veteran Buttonwood alley hunter again bagged the limit of four ducks—and again it was two drakes and two hens.

Keifreider revealed that the two hunters saw plenty of ducks again yesterday, but that they didn't see any hunters. They said the area around the Skippack creek is well supplied with ducks and they intend to return to the spot to do more hunting.

Fish, Game Group To Fight to Keep River Canal Open

Hearing report the Schuylkill canal would be closed through Spring City unless action is taken soon to request that it be cleaned and restored. Spring City Fish and Game association at its monthly meeting Tuesday night took a definite stand to prevent the abolition of the old waterway.

The sportsmen's group met in Liberty firehall and heard a report from Rudy Grubb that the State Department of Forests and Waters had decided the portion of the canal which passes through Spring City would be closed unless a request be forwarded asking that it be cleaned.

Knowing that such request must be filed, the association immediately voted unanimously that it desires the canal to be restored to its former condition. A committee also was appointed to attend the next meeting of Spring City borough council and urge the borough fathers to act on the matter.

Individuals interested also were asked to write the Department of Forests and Waters to prevent the closing of the canal.

Game Protector Ralph Shank attended the meeting and gave a lengthy talk in which he advised there have been numerous offenders of pre-season illegal hunting. Warning of heavy penalties provided for such violations, he urged that sportsmen knowing of any infractions of the law to make immediate report. He pointed out there are too few game protectors and deputies to detect all violators, and it should behoove sportsmen to aid them.

Shank also stressed the safety program for hunters and reminded the group that in the case of hunting accidents, both the one injured and the one causing the injury must file report in 48 hours to the game protector or his deputy, or to the game commission. He also explained that hunters must carry their licenses at all times when armed, whether they be hunting or merely searching for vermin or killing snakes.

Thirteen new members were added, bringing the total to 226 for the year. The next meeting was planned for Nov. 18, when officers will be nominated.

Pilot Lands Light Plane Among Yard's Brick Piles

PHOENIXVILLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Horace A. James, of Riverton, N. J., brought his small private plane to a safe landing tonight in the one cleared space in the midst of a brick yard.

James and his Piper Cub were unharmed as they came to rest amid stored piles of bricks at the McAvoy brick yard on Route 83, two miles east of Phoenixville.

Patrolman William Petrie, of the Devon barracks of the State police, said James left the field of the Marshall Flying service at Morris-town, N. J., and stopped briefly at Reading, and was heading home when darkness caught him and he was forced to land amid the bricks.
